

SMVDU Ph.D. Scholar attended Prestigious International Workshop in China

With the objective to promote exchange of experiences in policy making, best practices and experiences in developing science, technology and innovation policies to achieve sustainable development especially in the areas of agriculture, public health and environmental protection, etc., Ms. Vibha Mahajan, Ph.D. Scholar, School of Business, SMVDU, Katra has attended two-week long duration workshop at Guangzhou, Guangdong province, China. She was the sole participant selected from India for this prestigious training workshop. The workshop started from 10th September, 2018 and ended on 22nd September, 2018 and was sponsored by UNCTAD and MOST, China. In this Capsule programme the internationally selected 13 participants interacted with industry experts, civil society etc., regarding developments being made on the policy issues in the People's Republic of China. Ms. Mahajan is doing her research work with Dr. Jyoti Sharma, Associate Professor, School of Business and it was Dr. Sharma's motivation and advices that the scholar has been able to enhance her learnings and exposure by attending training workshop at international level. The event has witnessed participants from different countries including Iran, Srilanka, South Africa, Thailand etc. During the workshop the participants visited Guangdong cities of Shenzhen, Foshan, Dongguan and Guangzhou, the provincial capital. The workshop helped her to learn about China's experience in promoting sustainable development with technology and innovation and industrial incubation. Taking Tianhe district, Guangzhou, as an example to showcase innovation policy for and experience of urban waste management the workshop helped her to understand the use of technology in managing urban waste. On the last day of the workshop, the Scholar presented India's STI policies for sustainable development with the use of technology and innovation and was felicitated with certificate for her successful completion of training workshop.